Stevens Point Senator Earns “Friend of Housing” Award

WI Builders Recognize Sen. Testin’s Commitment to Keeping Housing Affordable

Madison: The Wisconsin Builders Association (WBA) has presented Senator Patrick Testin (Stevens Point) with their “Friend of Housing” Award, recognizing his commitment to helping make homeownership more attainable in Wisconsin.

“I’m honored to receive this recognition and I’m proud to be working with builders from around the state to make Wisconsin an even better place to live, work, and raise a family,” said Senator Testin. “For many, homeownership is a key to their American Dream, and we’re working to make that dream easier to reach.”

The WBA’s vision is to make affordable, innovative, and environmentally conscious homes accessible to all.

“Senator Testin has been a strong advocate for cutting the red tape that raises costs for home builders and buyers alike,” noted Brad Boycks, WBA’s executive director. “We thank him for helping put our vision within reach for more Wisconsinites.”

For seventy-five years, the WBA has been an advocate for home builders, and currently represents more than 4,000 building industry members across the state.
